I'll talk about virtual ethics from different perspectives. In the background I'll have Georg Henrik von Wright's idea or concept of the varieties of goodness. I'll clarify what de facto ethics means and also discuss briefly the relation between ethics and information literacy.