Applied Ethnomusicology in Institutional Policy and Practice

Edited by Klisala Harrison
EDITOR’S INTRODUCTION
Why Applied Ethnomusicology?
Klisala Harrison

INSTITUTIONS I: ORGANIZATIONS
Government
Approaching an Epistemic Community of Applied Ethnomusicology in Australia:
Intercultural Research on Australian Aboriginal Song
Sally Treloyn
Migrant Youth Hip-Hoppers in Hamburg, Germany: Negotiating Institutional Politics and Social Integration
Emily Joy Rothchild
"Being on Both Sides": The Ethnomusicologist between Official Institutions and Musicians
Marie-Christine Parent

Universities, Music Conservatories and Learned Societies
Policy Formation, Ethics Statements and Ethics in Ethnomusicology:
The Need for Increased and Sustained Engagement
Muriel E. Swijghuisen Reigersberg
Industrialized Music Education in China: A Discussion of the “Standard Grade Examinations in Music” (SGEM) Organized by the Central Conservatory of Music, Beijing
Zhang Boyu
Collaboration and Community-Engaged Practice in Indigenous Tertiary Music Education:
A Case Study and Model from South Australia
Jennifer K. Newsome
Initiatives, Reorientations and Strategic Plans in the Music Department,
University of Fort Hare, South Africa: A Summary and a Visionary Reflection
Bernhard Bleibinger

The Christian Church
Dave Dargie

INSTITUTIONS II: SELF-ORGANIZED INSTITUTIONS
Uploading Matepe: Online Learning, Sustainability and Repatriation in Northeastern Zimbabwe
Jocelyn Moon

List of Contributors